NIJC Pro Bono Case List: 70 cases need pro bono representation.

Immigrants do not have the right to appointed counsel and without pro bono representation, many of NIJC's clients would be forced to seek immigration relief on their own. NIJC pro bono attorneys defend the legal rights of immigrants, prevent permanent family separation and deportation to persecution and torture, and help ensure access to justice for all.

This case list is divided into sections based on the type of case. All cases that require priority placement are listed at the top of the list and organized by case type. When you select a case type, the headline will provide basic information about the case. Additional information is available in the drop-down options below the headline.

- Asylum - Affirmative: Represent an individual or family who is affirmatively applying for asylum and will present their case before the Asylum Office.
- Asylum – Defensive: Represent an individual or family who is applying for asylum as a defense to removal and will present their case before the Immigration Court.
- Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS): Represent the guardian of an immigrant minor in state court proceedings to obtain a predicate order.
- U Visa: Represent an immigrant survivor of a crime committed in the United States.
- VAWA: Represent an immigrant survivor of family or domestic violence.

Priority Matters - Defensive Asylum

1. Q is a man from Colombia. His partner and their children are also eligible for asylum. Their merits hearing is on September 18, 2024. Q and his family speak Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 9/18/2024

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

Q and his family were persecuted by FARC dissidents in Colombia. Q and his partner spent their life savings buying a plot of land and building a house on it. Shortly after completing the construction, FARC dissidents began coming to their house and making demands and threats. When Q tried to ignore their demands, the dissidents began regularly physically assaulting Q and threatening his partner and their children. The family fled to other parts of the country but were found and threatened on two separate occasions. Q fled Colombia with his family after being discovered a second time and came to the United States in 2022.

Important Client Context

Q's pro bono attorneys should be prepared to argue, with NIJC support, that all family members are eligible for asylum, and his children have independent claims and are derivatives on his asylum application. All affidavits and supporting materials for Q's case will be due 15 days prior to his individual merits hearing on September 18, 2024.

2. J. is a woman from Honduras. Her son, N., is a derivative on her asylum application and is also independently eligible for asylum. Their merits hearing is on October 15, 2024. They speak Spanish and live in Indianapolis.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 10/15/2024

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IN

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

As a child, J. lived with an aunt and uncle. Her uncle molested her, and her aunt verbally abused her and forced her to work. One night in 2019, an armed man stopped J. while she was walking home and sexually assaulted her in a cemetery. J. believes her attacker was affiliated with a gang. J. became pregnant from the assault and fled because she feared that her rapist would come after her if he learned about the pregnancy.

Important Client Context

J. filed her asylum application in December 2020. Since this application was filed more than one year after J. entered the United States, her pro bono attorneys will need to argue that she merits an exception to the one-year filing deadline for asylum eligibility. NIJC will assist in making this argument. All affidavits and supporting materials to J.'s case will be due 15 days prior to her individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for October 15, 2024.

3. G. is a transgender man from Nicaragua. His merits hearing is on January 17, 2025. G. speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 1/17/2025

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Nicaragua

Client's Story

G. was an active member of an opposition political party in Nicaragua. While protesting peacefully with friends in May 2018, snipers suddenly started shooting into the crowd and police became violent. A police officer beat G. with a baton while he was running away and pushed him into a barbed wire fence. One of G.'s friends who attended the protest is presumed dead while the other two are still in police custody. After discovering that G. does not support the government, G.'s politically connected neighbor sent police patrols to his house. Separately, G.'s mom also verbally and physically abused him for his gender identity and sexuality. G. fled Nicaragua in 2019 and lived in Mexico until coming to the United States in 2022.

Important Client Context

G.'s pro bono attorneys should be prepared to argue, with NIJC support, that the firm resettlement bar does not apply to his case. All affidavits and supporting materials for G.'s case will be due 15 days prior to his individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for January 17, 2025.

4. S. is a woman from El Salvador. Her daughter, A., is a derivative on her asylum application and is also independently eligible for asylum. Their merits hearing is on January 30, 2025. S. and A. speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 1/30/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: El Salvador

Client's Story

S.'s ex-partner and the father of her daughter, A., was physically, financially, and emotionally abusive to S. throughout their relationship. He refused to allow S. to leave his family home and attempted to force her to have sex with the patrons of his family's liquor store and small restaurant. Many of the patrons were Salvadoran gang members. S.'s ex-partner threatened that they would find and harm S. if she disobeyed him. S. escaped with A. and came to the United States in July 2018.

Important Client Context

NIJC filed S. and A.'s applications for asylum in July 2021. Because their applications were filed more than one year after S. and A. entered the United States, their pro bono attorneys will need to argue that they merit an exception to the one-year filing deadline for asylum. NIJC will assist them in making this argument. All affidavits and supporting materials will be due 15 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which is on January 30, 2025.

5. R. is a man from Togo. His upcoming merits hearing is on January 13, 2026. He speaks French and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 1/13/2026

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: French

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Togo

Client's Story

R. was a member of the PNP political party in Togo. He participated in meetings and protests with the aim of ousting the current president and instituting democracy in Togo. He became a PNP member in 2017. In 2018, R. participated in protests during which police teargassed protesters. The police detained R., hit and kicked him, and took him to a military camp where he was detained for several days. A soldier helped R. escape. R. resumed activities with the PNP while trying to hide his identity and moving to different locations to evade government detection. R. decided to escape Togo after the government arrested his friend from the PNP. After R. left, the government detained his girlfriend and called R. to threaten him.

Important Client Context

R. entered the United States in November 2021, was placed in removal proceedings, and timely filed for asylum. All affidavits and supporting materials for R.'s case will be due 15 days prior to his individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for January 13, 2026.

6. J. is a woman from Honduras. Her son, R., and two daughters, A. and W., are derivatives on her application for asylum. J., R., A., and W. speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

J. lived with her partner, Z., and their son, R. Z. physically and verbally abused J. after he heard that another man touched her. J. was hospitalized as a result of the abuse. After this happened, J. told her parents of the harm. J. and R. left to live with J.'s parents, but Z. found her and threatened to harm J. and her parents if they went to the police. Fearing for their safety, J. began living with Z. again, and he continued to abuse her. Sometime after this, J. gave birth to A. Several years later, J. left Z. He retaliated by taking R. and A. He kept them for months and did not allow J. to see or contact her children during this time. R. and A. eventually escaped and returned to J. In 2019, J. fled the country, but Mexican immigration officials deported her back to Honduras. She had become pregnant on her journey and gave birth to her youngest daughter, W., in Honduras. J. and her children lived with J.'s parents because she received death threats from Z. In 2021, J. fled Honduras with W. to escape Z. About six months later, R. and A. traveled to the United States separately in order to join them.

Important Client Context

NIJC filed J.'s asylum application with her children as derivatives with USCIS in November 2023. Because the application was filed more than one year after the J.'s arrival, the family's case may be referred to the immigration court. Pro bono attorneys will need to argue that they meet an exception to the one-year filing deadline. NIJC will assist them in making this argument. All supporting materials will be due one week prior to the asylum interview. Because interview timing can vary, pro bono counsel should plan to work up this case within 12-16 weeks of placement.

7. M. and F. are half-brothers, aged 17 and 12, from Venezuela. They live with their mother, who speaks Spanish, in a southwestern suburb of Chicago (Will County).

Deadline: Obtain Predicate Order by 7/5/2024

Venue: Family Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

M. and F. have the same mother, but different fathers. M.'s father was physically abusive to their mother and has never provided emotional or financial support to M.. Since M. was seven years old, his father hasn't communicated with him, except for a few text messages. M. came to the U.S. to reunite with his mother in Illinois in July 2023. F. hasn't seen his father since he was five years old, and when F. was three years old his father stopped providing financial support. F. came to the U.S. in October 2022 to reunite with his mother.

Important Client Context

M.'s predicate order must be obtained before he turns 18 in July of 2024.

A pro bono attorney will need to file two separate petitions for sole allocation of parental responsibilities on behalf of the mother and obtain two orders, one for each child. Each order must find that M. or F.'s reunification with their father is not viable due to abandonment, and that it is not in M. or F.'s best interest to return to Venezuela.

9. L. is a woman from Cameroon. She, her partner O., and their daughter, B., have a Master Calendar hearing scheduled for February 27, 2024. The family speaks French and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 2/27/2024

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: French

Country of Origin: Cameroon

Client's Story

L. was forced into marriage as a child. Her husband routinely raped and abused her. He threw their newborn baby against the wall, killing the infant. After several years of horrific abuse, L. escaped and relocated to another city, but was left homeless. While on the streets, she suffered multiple rapes. A woman found L. and offered her a place to stay, but the woman's husband also raped L. The woman and her husband then trafficked L. to Brazil, promising L. work as a maid in a family member's home, but instead forcing her into a life of prostitution. While in Brazil, L. met O., who had fled Cameroon several years prior to escape political persecution. O. helped L. escape the forced prostitution, and the two relocated to another city in Brazil. After giving birth to their daughter, B., L. learned that her traffickers, who are members of the Nigerian mafia, continued to search for L., O., and B. and intended to kill them. Fearing for their lives, L., O., and B. fled to the United States.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed their applications for asylum with the Chicago Immigration Court. Their pro bono attorneys should be prepared to argue, with NIJC support, that the firm resettlement bar does not apply to their cases. All filings will be due 15 days prior to their merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

10. J. is a gay cisgender man from Colombia. He speaks Spanish and lives in a suburb of Chicago, Illinois. His defensive asylum application is pending with the immigration court. J. is scheduled for a master calendar hearing on February 15, 2024.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 2/15/2024

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

As a child, J.'s peers frequently called him anti-LGBTQ slurs because they perceived him as feminine. In 2018, men attacked and sexually abused J. while calling him slurs. J. contracted HIV from the assault. Later that year, another group of men beat J. while calling him anti-LGBTQ slurs and threatening to kill his family if he went to the police. J. fears living openly as a gay man in Colombia and fears that sharing his HIV status and abuse with anyone would put him at risk for further harm. J. believes the Colombian police are corrupt and anti-LGBTQ and would not protect him from future harm. J. fled to the United State after meeting his partner online who told J. about the possibility of living freely as a gay person in the United States.

Important Client Context

J. filed his asylum application pro se on March 13, 2023. J. is currently set for a master calendar hearing on February 15, 2024 with a visiting judge, which is likely to be rescheduled. All affidavits and supporting documents for J.'s case will be due 15 days prior to his individual merits hearing. If client and pro bono counsel agree, counsel can file a motion to set the case for merits.

11. P. is a man from Angola. His wife Q., and children, R., S., T., U., and V. are all derivatives on his application for asylum. P., Q., S., U., and V.'s Master Calendar Hearing is scheduled for March 14, 2024. T. has no hearings currently scheduled. P. and his family speak Portuguese and live on the Southside of Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 2/25/2024

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Portuguese

Country of Origin: Angola

Client's Story

P. was a teacher. As a government worker, he was expected to support the government in power, "the People's Movement for the Liberation of Angola" (the MPLA). P. refused to participate in pro government marches and offer his support to the MPLA. P.'s wife, Q., occasionally showed support for the government's opposition and participated in anti-government marches. During one of these marches, security guards saw Q. and identified her as part of the opposition party. Soon after, P. and his family began to receive threatening phone calls in which they were accused of being traitors. P. believes that the MPLA was targeting them as anti-government. Over the next few months, P. was kidnapped, beaten, threatened with death, and persecuted. His wife and children were also victims of attempted harm including threats and attempted kidnapping. The family reported multiple instances of harm to the police, but they never received any protection. In September 2022, men on motorcycles followed and shot at P. and the children. Soon after, they obtained tourist visas to Brazil and fled Angola. From Brazil, they made their way north and entered the United States in February 2023.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed P.'s application for asylum with the immigration court. All affidavits and supporting materials to their case will be due 15 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 3/20/2024

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

Throughout K.'s childhood, he was frequently perceived as LGBTQ. He was sexually assaulted on numerous occasions. He was called anti-LGBTQ slurs and ostracized at school. Around 2022, members of a local gang saw K. with his boyfriend and shouted anti-LGBTQ slurs at them. From then on, gang members harassed K. his boyfriend nearly every time they left house by shouting slurs and threats and by throwing stones and bottles at them. Later that year, gang members sent death threats to K. and his family. When the death threats began, K. and his siblings reported the threats to the neighborhood and city police but did not feel protected. A few weeks after the death threats began, K. and his family members left Colombia.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed K.'s asylum application with the Chicago Immigration Court on July 10, 2023. K. is currently set for a master calendar hearing on March 20, 2024. Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 4/22/2024

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: English

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Ecuador

Client's Story

When J. was a young woman, she met her first partner and the father of her first two children. He abused her for several years until they separated. She made several reports against him. J. met her next partner, the father of her third child, S., a few years later. He also severely abused J. throughout their relationship, beating and threatening her often. She finally separated from him after several years, but he continued to threaten her. J. then entered a relationship with a woman. She and her partner faced a lot of discrimination, harassment and threats for being together. J.'s second partner often called to threaten her, insult her, and even found her and beat her up again. Several months before coming to the United States, J. and her partner received a letter at their home calling them lesbians and telling them they were going to be killed. They began preparing to come to the United States and fled together with J.'s daughter S. as soon as they had the money to do so. J. and S. arrived in the United States in July of 2021.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed their asylum applications with USCIS. J.'s first Master Calendar hearing is on April 22, 2024. All affidavits and supporting materials will be due 15 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Cuba

Client's Story

A. was drafted for military service. When he refused, he was detained, tortured, and subjected to beatings and threats to disappear him because he was deemed counterrevolutionary. Afterwards, A. continued to refuse to participate in the military and began protesting on the streets against the government. Later, A. began a small business, but his supplies were confiscated by government officials at the airport and later government inspectors came to his home to confiscate all of his work tools, equipment, and supplies. The inspectors threatened to disappear A. and extorted him for money. A. fled Cuba in early 2018. L. was forced to participate in pro-government school and community events when she was young which solidified her anti-government beliefs. Later, L. became an attorney and worked for a state-owned company where she was singled out by her employer as someone who did not participate in pro-government events. Client's Story

A. has experienced domestic violence since she was a child. Her father forced her to marry a man when she was a young teen because she became pregnant with his child. This man was physically, sexually, and psychologically abusive to her throughout their relationship. When A. tried to separate from him, he took their two children and disappeared. She has only seen her eldest children once since then. A. later began a relationship with another man, B.'s father, who was also abusive. She left the relationship and was living alone with B. when she was robbed and assaulted by people she thinks may have been in the local cartel. A few months after the initial assault, someone shot into her house and she began to receive menacing phone calls. 43. L. is a man from Honduras. L.'s Master Calendar hearing was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic and has not been rescheduled. L. speaks Spanish and lives in a southwestern suburb of Chicago.

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

In 2018, L. was living with his former partner, D., when she began to receive threatening text messages from her ex-husband. Within a few days, D.'s ex-husband murdered her. Soon after, L. began to receive threatening messages from men associated with D.'s ex-husband. These men also started to intimidate L.'s family while they were looking for him. L. assisted D.'s family in making a police report about the murder, but nothing significant came of it and police even tried to blame L. for D.'s death. L. fled Honduras about a month after D.'s death, fearing that the same people who killed her would come for him next.

Important Client Context

L. filed a pro se application for asylum with the immigration court in 2020. Because this application was filed more than one year after he entered the United States, L.'s pro bono attorneys will need to argue that he merits an exception to the one-year filing deadline for asylum. Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

L. owned and operated a textile factory in Venezuela. She was also an active member of the opposition party, Primero Justicia. L. participated in many marches and protests with the party. Starting in around 2016, L. received several threats at her factory. Members of a "colectivo," an armed pro-government group, came to her factory and told her that she had to pay them in order to support the revolution. She paid what they requested so that they would leave and reported this to the police afterwards. Not long after, the colectivo requested even more money. L. eventually had to close her business completely, but even after closing the business, she continued to receive threats from the colectivo. On several occasions, colectivo members came by her house on motorcycle shouting her name and firing guns into the air. L. came to the United States in 2018 on a tourist visa, hoping she could return to Venezuela, but soon realized it was best to stay and seek asylum after her daughter reported that colectivo members continued to come to her home looking for her.

Important Client Context

L. timely filed for asylum with USCIS in 2019 but her case was referred to the immigration court after her interview with the asylum office. All affidavits and supporting materials to L.'s case will be due 15 days prior to her individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

46. M. is a man from Ecuador. He is currently awaiting the rescheduling of his next Master Calendar hearing date. M. speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Ecuador

Client's Story

M. owned a small business in Ecuador where people could pay to use computers and printers. His shop was located near the local market where corrupt police officers frequently forced vendors to pay them in order to sell there. Around August of 2018, two officers left behind a flash drive after using computers in M.'s store. After they left, M. opened the flash drive and discovered evidence of the overcharging of market vendors. When the officers came back to retrieve the flash drive, they warned M. that he would have problems if he had looked at the contents of the flash drive and spoke out against them. Afterwards, M. began to receive threats from the police and a gang affiliated with the police. Around January of 2019, gang members kidnapped M. and took him to a remote location where they beat him and took his money. After this incident, M. fled the country, but people continued to go to his shop looking for him and threatened to harm his girlfriend and daughter, which led them to flee as well.

Important Client Context

NIJC filed M.'s asylum application with the immigration court in April 2021. Because his application was filed more than one year after he entered the United States, M.'s pro bono attorneys will need to argue that he merits an exception to the one-year filing deadline. Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IN

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

M.'s nephew, who is an imprisoned gang member, demanded that M. help him leave prison by lying to the police. M. refused to cooperate. After her refusal, her cousin threatened to harm M. and her family. M. noticed gang members surveilling her family and her home. Additionally, gang members threatened T. for his refusal to pay extortion fees. The family fled Honduras after they made a police report against M.'s nephew and the police did nothing.

Important Client Context

They entered the United States in 2018, were placed in removal proceedings, and applied for asylum. They filed for asylum after their one-year deadline, but are Mendez Rojas class members and timely filed class membership notices. They were set for an individual merits hearing in January 2023, but the immigration court cancelled the hearing. They are now awaiting their new merits hearing date. Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court, USCIS

Location: IL

Language: Other

Country of Origin: Cameroon

Client’s Story

R is a single mother who sold food to support her family in an Anglophone region of Cameroon. In early 2022, she was arrested by the Cameroonian military and accused of selling food to separatists. Policed officers tortured R. during interrogation and raped her multiple times while she was in prison. After R. was released from prison, the military began looking for her again. She was declared wanted for conspiring with separatist fighters. After the military came looking for her, R.’s family, including her children, went into hiding. She does not currently know their whereabouts. R. fled to Brazil. From there, she travelled to the United States and entered in late 2022.

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: El Salvador

Client’s Story

During much of their relationship, R.’s ex-partner H., was verbally, physically, and sexually abusive. H. was a police officer in El Salvador. For some time, H. was able to hide his status as a police officer from the community and 18th Street gang members. Eventually, gang members took notice of his role. They began calling the family and sending pictures of R.'s daughter, threatening to kill the family if R. and H. did not pay the extortion fees. Although R. and her family repeatedly tried to relocate to other towns in El Salvador, the gang members continued to find them and targeted R.'s son A. for being the son of a police officer. H. fled to the United States and was granted asylum, but the gang continued targeting the family, particularly A., making it impossible for them to leave their home. 59. D. is a man from Colombia. His wife W., son P., and daughter F., are derivatives on his asylum application. Counsel must file a separate asylum application with USCIS for D.'s stepdaughter, B., by May 31, 2024. D., W., P., F., and B. speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Application filed by 5/31/2024

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

D. was a high-ranking police officer in Colombia. In 2015, the state transferred D. to a different district. He began to work with the Local Branch of the Judicial and Investigative Police (SIJIN) to help identify and capture individuals who were involved in micro trafficking. In 2018, the court called D. to testify as a witness in a hearing against accused micro traffickers. About a month after the hearing, D. noticed individuals on motorcycles watching and following him after work. In early 2020, D. stopped doing operational fieldwork and transferred to an administrative position after a serious car accident left him with physical impairments. Although D. was in a new position, W. and B. noticed men on motorcycles frequently watching their house. Unknown, suspicious individuals began to approach D. in public and ask him personal questions including about his past employment. Later that year, D. learned that a number of police officer's home addresses, including his own, had been shared in a group chat that included numerous micro trafficking affiliates. Around late 2021 or early 2022, D. and his family received a threatening note at their house. D. reported the harassment and threats to the police, but nothing came of it. D. and his family stopped leaving their house unless necessary. In spring 2023, they fled to the United States on tourist visas.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed D.'s asylum application with USCIS. USCIS must receive B.'s asylum application by May 31, 2024. Affidavits and other supporting documents will be due one week prior to the family's interview(s) at the asylum office. Because interview timing can vary, pro bono counsel should plan to work up this case within 12-16 weeks of case acceptance.

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: USCIS

Location: IN

Language: English

Country of Origin: Nigeria

Client's Story

Shortly after D. was forced into an arranged marriage, his wife caught him being intimate with a man. D. feared for his life, as LGBTQ relationships are criminalized in all of Nigeria. While D.'s wife did not tell others of his sexual orientation, he was later outed by an ex-partner. Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Nicaragua

Client's Story

M. began attending anti-government protests frequently in 2018. Police often followed and harassed her for her political activism. In late 2019, police arrested M. for her connections with a prominent activist and held her in prison for about a week. During this time, police subjected her to routine interrogations in which they beat and sexually assaulted and her. M. still suffers from the permanent injuries that she sustained during this time. The government released M. on the condition that she provide a false testimony in trial against another activist. She refused to comply, and in early 2021, the government falsified drugs and arms trafficking charges against M. in order to arrest her again. Police kept M. jailed and drugged for nearly two weeks before transferring her to a penitentiary. M.'s mother contacted a civil rights attorney to defend her, but though the accusations were false and the government never produced hard evidence, a judge sentenced M. to 18 years in prison. Prison officials denied M. medical treatment and prescription medication. They forced her to spend one year in solitary confinement. After two years as a political prisoner, the Nicaraguan government exiled M. in February 2023 and sent her to the United States.

Important Client Context

SIJS - Predicate Order

Expected Tasks: Litigating in state court, Preparing affidavits, Preparing applications, Preparing client testimony, Working with vulnerable clients

63. S. is a 6-year-old girl from Colombia who lives with her mother, who speaks Spanish, in a northwest suburb of Chicago (Cook County).

Deadline: Obtain Predicate Order by 7/1/2024

Venue: Family Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

S. was a year old when her parents separated. After their separation, S.'s father only provided her with money for three months. Since then, S. has not seen her father, and he has not attempted to contact her or provide any financial or emotional support. S.'s mother fled Colombia in October 2022 after receiving threats from guerrillas. S. was left behind with an aunt who is part of the LGBTQ+ community, and because of that, both S. and her aunt received threats. S. fled shortly afterward and joined her mother in the United States in July 2023.

Important Client Context

A pro bono attorney will need to file a petition for sole allocation of parental responsibilities on behalf of S.'s mother and obtain an order finding that S.'s reunification with her father is not viable due to his abandonment and that it is not in S.'s best interest to return to Columbia.

67. M. is a 19-year-old girl from Guatemala. She lives with her mother, who speaks Spanish, in Chicago (Cook County).

Deadline: Obtain Predicate Order by 8/20/2024

Venue: Probate Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Guatemala

Client's Story

M. has never had a relationship with her father. When M. was about three years old, her father left for the United States, leaving M. and her mother behind in Guatemala. Her father would only call when he was under the influence of alcohol, and these calls were infrequent. He never provided emotional or financial support to M., and she has not had contact with him since she was 15 years old.

Important Client Context

A pro bono attorney will need to file a petition for guardianship on behalf of M.'s mother and obtain an order stating that M.'s reunification with her father is not viable due to his abandonment. Additionally, it must be established that it is not in M.'s best interest to return to Guatemala.

68. B., S., and L. are siblings aged 11, 6, and 3, from Honduras. They live with their mother, who speaks Spanish, in northeast Illinois (Will County).

Deadline: Obtain Predicate Order by 9/1/2024

Venue: Family Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

B., S., and L. have the same mother but have different fathers. B.'s father left when she was about three years old. Following their separation, B. would see her father about once a month, but he did not provide any financial support for many years. The last time B. spoke to her father was in 2021. S. and L.'s father was arrested for kidnapping in Honduras and was recently convicted, receiving an 11-year prison sentence. S. and L. fled with their mother to the U.S. in 2021, and B. has since joined them here.

Important Client Context

A pro bono attorney will need to file two separate petitions for sole allocation of parental responsibilities: one for B. and another for S. and L. and obtain orders finding that reunification with their respective fathers is not viable due to abandonment and that it is not in their best interest to return to Honduras.

VAWA

Expected Tasks: Preparing affidavits, Preparing applications, Working with vulnerable clients

70. A. is a woman from Nigeria who is eligible to file a VAWA self-petition application. A. speaks English and lives in Joliet. There is no set deadline since A. is still legally married to her husband.

Venue: USCIS

Location: IL

Language: English

Country of Origin: Nigeria

Client's Story

A. has been the victim of emotional, psychological, and physical abuse by her husband. On one occasion, A.'s husband severely physically abused A. and left her unable to walk. A. never called the police because she was scared due to her lack of immigration status. A.'s husband was controlling and took A.'s phone to delete the evidence of abuse she experienced. A. has sought counseling to heal from the abuse she suffered. A. is separated from abusive husband. Along with her VAWA application, A. will require a waiver of inadmissibility for fraud/misrepresentation.
