NIJC Pro Bono Case List: 56 cases need pro bono representation.

Immigrants do not have the right to appointed counsel and without pro bono representation, many of NIJC's clients would be forced to seek immigration relief on their own. NIJC pro bono attorneys defend the legal rights of immigrants, prevent permanent family separation and deportation to persecution and torture, and help ensure access to justice for all.

This case list is divided into sections based on the type of case. All cases that require priority placement are listed at the top of the list and organized by case type. You can select a case type from the menu below to view a list of cases of that type.

PLEASE NOTE: For asylum cases, this list includes cases that are scheduled for—or that we expect to receive—merits hearings within the next two years. Please note that the timeline for affirmative cases may be different. Not included on this list are numerous cases that are not yet scheduled for a hearing, and which could benefit from pro bono advocacy to secure a hearing date. If you are interested in working on a specific type of case that you do not see listed here, please email Lili Henkel (lhenkel@immigrantjustice.org) and Moisés López Soltero (mlopezsoltero@immigrantjustice.org), and we will explore whether we have a case available that may be a good fit. For general questions about pro bono work with NIJC, please contact Charlotte Sall (csall@immigrantjustice.org).

- Asylum - Affirmative: Represent an individual or family who is affirmatively applying for asylum and will present their case before the Asylum Office.
- Asylum – Defensive: Represent an individual or family who is applying for asylum as a defense to removal and will present their case before the Immigration Court.
- Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS): Represent the guardian of an immigrant minor in state court proceedings to obtain a predicate order.
- U Visa: Represent an immigrant survivor of a crime committed in the United States.
- VAWA: Represent an immigrant survivor of family or domestic violence.

Priority Matters - Defensive Asylum

1. M. is a woman from Benin. Her Master Calendar hearing is on August 19, 2025. M. speaks French and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 8/19/2025

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: French

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Benin

Client's Story

When M.'s husband died unexpectedly, his family and other members of the Mono community forced M. to participate in burial and widowhood rituals they knew were against her Christian religion. They demanded she marry her late husband's HIV positive brother. The tribe/family adhere to strict (Voudou) traditions that suspect widows of causing a husband's unexpected death and perceive widows as tribal property. M. fled Benin to escape forced marriage and potential death, leaving behind her four minor children.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed an application for asylum on M.'s behalf with USCIS. Following a long wait, M. had an interview, but the asylum office referred M.'s case to immigration court. NIJC is urgently seeking a pro bono team to advance M.'s case on the basis that she has now been separated from her children for ten years. All affidavits and supporting materials for her case will be due 30 days prior to her individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

2. A. is a woman from Guatemala. Her four children are derivatives on her application for asylum. A. and her son, B., are scheduled for their individual merits hearing on August 28, 2025. Because A.'s daughters, C., D., and E., entered the United States as unaccompanied minors, USCIS has initial jurisdiction over their cases. All three are awaiting the scheduling of their asylum interviews, and C. has a Master Calendar hearing on August 5, 2027. A. and her family speak Spanish and live in Central Illinois.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 8/28/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court, USCIS

Language: Canjobal

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Guatemala

Client's Story

A.'s partner abused A. and their children, raped A., and controlled her. He became particularly violent after she gave birth to their second daughter because he was angry that the child was a girl. A. has long-term hearing loss as a result of the abuse. A.'s partner forced her daughter, C., to scavenge for food at a local dump, attempted to sell C. to a drug trafficker, and threatened to rape C. When A. moved with her children to another part of Guatemala, her partner found them and threatened to kill them with the help of his drug trafficking associates. Fearing for their lives, A. fled with B. to the United States, followed separately by C. A.'s two youngest daughters, D. and E., joined them in the United States several years later.

Important Client Context

Because A. and B. filed for asylum after their one-year deadline, their pro bono attorneys will need to argue that they merit an exception to the one-year filing deadline for asylum eligibility. NIJC will assist them in making this argument. All documentation to their case will be due 30 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for August 28, 2025. C., D., and E. timely filed their applications for asylum with USCIS. All supporting documentation to their cases will be due one week prior to their asylum interviews.

- 3. R. is a woman from Ecuador. R. and four of her children have a merits hearing on August 28, 2025. R.’s husband, H., and their eldest child, C. have asylum applications pending with USCIS. R. and her family speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 8/28/2025

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court, USCIS

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Ecuador

Client’s Story

H. witnessed a gang engaging in suspicious activity at a neighbor’s house. Law enforcement arrived shortly after, leading the gang to assume that H. reported them to the police. Following this incident, the gang terrorized the family on numerous occasions by extorting them, attacking them, and assaulting the two eldest children. The family also suspects that the gang murdered R.’s nephew by staging a fatal car accident in which he was killed. C. suffered domestic abuse at the hands of her former partner who had ties to the same gang that targeted the rest of the family. The second eldest child has an additional claim based on a sexual assault that the gang committed against her.

Important Client Context

NIJC filed asylum applications on the family’s behalf. The four youngest children are listed as derivatives on R.’s and H.’s applications, and R. and H. are also listed as each other’s derivatives. All family members also filed individual asylum applications. Because their applications were filed more than one year after they entered the United States, pro bono attorneys will need to argue that the family merits an exception to the one-year filing deadline. NIJC will assist them in making this argument. All affidavits and supporting materials to R. and the four youngest children’s case will be due 15 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for August 28, 2025. All supporting materials to H. and C.’s case will be due one week prior to the asylum interview. If R. is granted asylum at her hearing before H. and C. are called for asylum interviews, she can file an I-730 petition for them to be granted asylum as her derivatives.

- 4. Q. is a transgender woman from Venezuela. Her merits hearing is scheduled for September 3, 2025. Q. speaks Spanish and lives in the northwest suburbs of Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 9/3/2025

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

As a child, Q's family members physically and verbally abused her for her effeminacy and because they perceived her to be gay. Q.'s classmates bullied her throughout school and called her anti-LGTBQ slurs. As an adult, Q. joined a political party in opposition to the government and was threatened by pro-government allies for her sexual orientation and political activism. Pro-government agents followed Q. home from work and physically and sexually assaulted her in her home. When Q. reported the threats and attack to the police, she was not taken seriously and was mocked for her gender identity.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed Q.'s asylum application. All affidavits and supporting documents for Q.'s case will be due 30 days prior to her merits hearing, which is on September 3, 2025.

5. R. is woman from Venezuela. Her individual merits hearing is on October 2, 2025. R. speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 10/2/2025

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

In Venezuela, R. first experienced harm in 2012 when the National Guard killed her brother during a raid. R. and her family pursued a case against the National Guard and received threats from the government. In 2022, R. was raped by her sister's husband. Then, also in 2022, R. noticed that she was being surveilled. Cars would follow and monitor her at her home and work. In 2023, several people came into her home and kidnapped her. She was held for seven days with several other women. She discovered that her kidnappers were the Guayana Cartel, and that they planned to traffic her to Brazil for sex work. R. believes that they targeted her because she is an indigenous woman. R.'s mother is from the Guajira indigenous minority in Venezuela, and R. has typical physical attributes associated with indigenous women. The other kidnapping victims held with R. were also indigenous Venezuelan women. During her captivity, R.'s kidnappers fed her just once a day and raped her multiple times. Eventually, R. managed to escape and flee to the U.S.

Important Client Context

R. timely filed for asylum and was placed in removal proceedings. All affidavits and supporting materials for her case will be due 30 days prior to her merits hearing, which is scheduled for October 2, 2025.

6. K. is a man from Ecuador. His wife, L., and daughter, M., are derivatives on his asylum application, and L. is also independently eligible for asylum. K., L., and M.'s merits hearing is on October 9, 2025. K. and his family speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 10/9/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Languages: Spanish, Kichwa

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Ecuador

Client's Story

K. and his wife, L., operated a fruit stand in Ecuador. K. and L. were approached by gang members who threatened their lives if they did not give them the money they demanded. K. was physically beaten and robbed by the gang members while trying to protect L. K. and L. paid the gang members for a month up until they ran out of money. K. and L. fled Ecuador with their daughter, M., and arrived in the United States around June 2023.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed their asylum applications with the immigration court. All affidavits and supporting materials for K., L. and M.'s case will be due 30 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for October 9, 2025.

7. M. is a woman from Honduras. M., her husband, T., and three of their children each individually eligible for asylum. Their Master Calendar hearing is on November 10, 2025. M., T., and their children speak Spanish and live in Indianapolis.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 11/10/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IN

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

M.'s nephew, who is an imprisoned gang member, demanded that M. help him leave prison by lying to the police. M. refused to cooperate. After her refusal, her cousin threatened to harm M. and her family. M. noticed gang members surveilling her family and her home. Additionally, gang members threatened T. for his refusal to pay extortion fees. The family fled Honduras after they made a police report against M.'s nephew and the police did nothing.

Important Client Context

They entered the United States in 2018, were placed in removal proceedings, and applied for asylum. They filed for asylum after their one-year deadline but are Mendez Rojas class members and timely filed class membership notices. They were set for an individual merits hearing in January 2023, but the immigration court cancelled the hearing. Their Master Calendar hearing is now scheduled for November 10, 2025. All supplementary filings will be due to court at least 30 days before their merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

8. R. is dual national of Ecuador and Venezuela. R.'s merits hearing is on November 18, 2025. He speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 11/18/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

In Venezuela, R. became involved in politics around 2012. He engaged in anti-government protests with the group Primero Justicia, motivated by the food shortages, extreme government crackdown on civilians, and violence against opposition activists. The government became increasingly violent toward protesters, so R. left Venezuela and lived in Ecuador, where he is also a citizen. Gang members and drug traffickers in Ecuador harmed and threatened R. because of his Venezuelan nationality. He returned to Venezuela and began working for a publicist in support of government opposition activism. In 2023, men threatened him at gunpoint and demanded that he cease his government opposition work. A short time later, Venezuelan officers stopped him and warned him to cease his anti-government work. R. then started receiving threatening calls demanding that he stop his activism. Pro-government individuals went to his family's home when he was not there, shot at the house, and threatened to kill R. because of his work for the publicity company. R. then went into hiding and fled Venezuela.

Important Client Context

R.'s NIJC attorney timely filed his application for asylum. All affidavits and supporting materials for R.'s case will be due 30 days before his merits hearing on November 18, 2025.

9. G. is a gay, cisgender man from Guatemala. G.'s merits hearing is scheduled for November 26, 2025. G. speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 11/26/2025

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Guatemala

Client's Story

G. lived in constant fear of violence for being gay. From a young age, G.'s classmates called him homophobic slurs and bullied him. Around age 16, G.'s teacher sexually assaulted him, and school administrators failed to protect G. after they found out. The teacher retaliated against G. without consequence.

Around December 2023, G.'s partner (also an NIJC client) received threatening phone calls, saying the callers would murder G. if they didn't pay an extortion fee. G. and his partner went to the police to report the calls, but the police laughed at them and refused to take down the report because they are gay. G. and partner fled Guatemala out of fear these callers would murder them and the Guatemalan police would not protect them.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed G.'s asylum application. All affidavits and supporting materials to G.'s case must be filed 30 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which is scheduled November 26, 2025.

G.'s partner is also in proceedings. They are considering getting married, at which time their cases may be consolidated.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 12/23/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IN

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

G. began receiving threats from her aunt's ex-partner because G. and her family refused to tell him where her aunt was after she fled Honduras. Another one of G.'s aunts was kidnapped by a local gang leader related to her aunt's ex-partner. Gang members tortured this aunt and left her for dead. G. and her partner, R., fled with her family to Mexico, but while in Mexico, G. began to receive threatening messages from gang members stating that they knew the family's whereabouts and would make them pay for disobeying.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed G., E., and R.'s asylum applications with USCIS, but their cases are now before the immigration court. All affidavits and supporting materials will be due 15 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for December 23, 2025 at 1pm.

11. A. is a woman from Nicaragua. Her son, P., is a derivative on her application. Their merits hearing is on December 30, 2025. A. and P. speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 12/30/2025

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Nicaragua

Client's Story

A.'s uncle sexually abused her during her childhood. In her teens and early adult years, she also suffered domestic violence from different partners in Nicaragua. A. later moved to Costa Rica on a tourist visa and became a permanent resident. A. continued to suffer domestic violence from multiple partners in Costa Rica, including the father of her son, P. A. and P. later moved back to Nicaragua, where they were pursued by A.'s most recent partner. While back in Nicaragua, A.'s uncle began to pressure her to join the Sandinista National Liberation Front (FSLN). A. did not want to join the party but knew that refusing to do so would lead the FSLN to target her. Fearing torture or death from the FSLN and further harm from her ex-partners, A. fled Nicaragua with P.

Important Client Context

A. filed her application for asylum pro se. She missed her one-year filing deadline by just two days because she mailed it over a weekend. Pro bono attorneys should be prepared to argue, with NIJC's support, that A. and P. qualify for exceptions to the one-year filing deadline and the firm resettlement bar. Deadline: Merits hearing on 1/13/2026

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Languages: French, Mina

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Togo

Client's Story

U. spent approximately fifteen years working as an organizer for an opposition Togolese political party, the Patriotic Movement for Democracy and Development.

While campaigning for the party during the leadup to the 2020 presidential election, soldiers arrested U. and tortured him, criticizing his political activities. U. escaped and lived in hiding until his uncle—who is affiliated with the right-wing party in power in Togo—told soldiers his whereabouts. U. then fled the country. Shortly after he did so, the party in power in Togo arrested and tortured U.’s father because of his political affiliations.

Important Client Context

U. timely filed a pro se asylum application. All affidavits and supporting materials to U.’s case will be due 30 days prior to his individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for January 13, 2026.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 2/5/2026

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client’s Story

K. was part of an opposition political party in Honduras and was very active in the protest movement. In 2015, armed men from the Honduran military kidnapped and beat him. They threatened that he had to leave the country or end his participation in the political party. After K. escaped, he reported the kidnapping and torture to the police. After filing the police report, Honduran military and government officials constantly threatened K. that he had to leave the country. Fearing further attacks, he fled to the United States July 2018.

Important Client Context

K. filed his application for asylum pro se with the immigration court. Because he filed more than one year after his arrival, K.’s pro bono attorneys will need to argue that he merits an exception to the one-year filing deadline. NIJC will assist them in making that argument. D.'s individual merits hearing is on February 3, 2028, but his sworn affidavit is due on March 5, 2025. D. and F. speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 2/3/2028

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court, USCIS

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Mexico

Client's Story

In 2022, unknown individuals shot and kidnapped D.'s brother. D. went to see the aftermath of the situation after his aunt called to tell him what happened. The next day, D. attempted to file a police report. Multiple police stations turned him away and told him he had to wait three days before filing a report. D. then dedicated his own time to search for his brother. He went to various morgues and around March 2022, he noticed police cars following him. D. received text messages and phone calls from the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG) threatening to kill him like they did to his brother if he didn't stop investigating or begin working for them instead. About a week later, D. saw his picture on Facebook with a red X over it saying that his time had come. D. and F. fled their home and hid for a month in Ciudad Hidalgo, Michoacan about an hour away, where D. continued receiving threats. D. and F. fled Ciudad Hidalgo and sheltered at the United States southern border for about five months before entering the United States.

Important Client Context

D. timely filed his asylum application with the Chicago Immigration Court. F. is not in the Court's system and has passed her one-year deadline. NIJC is seeking pro bono attorneys to submit her individual asylum application with USCIS as soon as possible. D.'s affidavit is due March 5, 2025, and all other supporting materials to his case will be due 30 days prior to his merits hearing, which is on February 3, 2028.

16. D. is a woman from Ecuador. Her daughter, C., is a derivative on D.'s claim and has an independent asylum application on file. D. and C.'s master calendar hearing is on March 24, 2025. Their case is on remand from the BIA for a de novo merits hearing. D. and C. speak Spanish and live in Connecticut.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 3/24/2025

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: CT

Country of Origin: Ecuador

Client's Story

In 2019, D. and her daughter C. fled D.'s husband who severely abused D. based on her gender, mixed race status, and Catholic faith. Upon entry to the U.S., they were placed in the MPP/Remain in Mexico program and thus returned to Mexico where they were twice kidnapped. Their first merits hearing was by video at the Laredo Tent Court. Although the Immigration Judge found D. wholly credible, he denied asylum and withholding but granted D. and C. protection under the Convention Against Torture (CAT). Since then, D. and C. have been before the Fifth Circuit twice and before the Board of Immigration Appeals three times. The BIA overturned the CAT grant and the case is now on remand to pursue all three forms of relief: asylum, withholding of removal, and CAT. With the assistance of NIJC and prior pro bono counsel, D. and C. finally obtained a remand for a second de novo merits hearing.

Important Client Context

D.'s and C.'s master calendar hearing is scheduled for March 24, 2025, before the Hartford Immigration Court. NIJC will share prior briefs, research, materials, and affidavits with new pro bono counsel. All affidavits and supporting materials to their case will be due 30 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 4/7/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Languages: Portuguese, Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Angola

Client's Story

R. was a doctor in Angola during the COVID-19 pandemic. She refused to falsify documents and participate in the corruption in which her employer and the Angolan government were involved. R. participated in public protests against this corruption, and police detained her as a result. Unknown individuals attacked and sexually assaulted R. because of her opposition. R.'s son, S., was kidnapped by individuals who told R. that this had happened because of her political opinions. S. was later returned to R., and she fled with her children to the United States in March 2023. R. is also a domestic abuse survivor. Beginning in 2019 and lasting until she left Angola, R.'s former husband, from whom she is now separated, physically and emotionally abused her.

Important Client Context

R. has one U.S. citizen child, U. R. timely filed her asylum application with the immigration court in December 2023. NIJC timely filed independent asylum applications for S. and T. in February 2024. All affidavits and supporting materials for R., S., and T.'s case will be due 30 days prior to their individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled. 18. L. is a woman from Cameroon. Her partner, O., and their daughter, B., have independent asylum applications on file, and B. is a derivative on both of her parents' applications. Their Master Calendar hearing is on April 9, 2025. The family speaks French and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 4/9/2025

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: French

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Cameroon

Client's Story

L. was forced into marriage as a child. Her husband routinely raped and abused her. He threw their newborn baby against the wall, killing the infant. After several years of horrific abuse, L. escaped and relocated to another city but was left homeless. While on the streets, she suffered multiple rapes. A woman found L. and offered her a place to stay, but the woman's husband also raped L. The woman and her husband then trafficked L. to Brazil, promising L. work as a maid in a family member's home, but instead forcing her into a life of prostitution. While in Brazil, L. met O., who had fled Cameroon several years prior to escape political persecution. O. helped L. escape the forced prostitution, and the two relocated to another city in Brazil. After giving birth to their daughter, B., L. learned that her traffickers, who are members of the Nigerian mafia, continued to search for L., O., and B. and intended to kill them. Fearing for their lives, L., O., and B. fled to the United States.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed L., O., and B.'s applications for asylum with the Chicago Immigration Court. Their pro bono attorneys should be prepared to argue, with NIJC support, that the firm resettlement bar does not apply to their cases. All filings will be due 30 days prior to their merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

19. A. is a man from Nigeria. His Master Calendar hearing is on April 16, 2025. A. speaks English and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 4/16/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: English

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Nigeria

Client's Story

A. is Christian. In Nigeria, A. dated a woman named G. who was Muslim. A. and G. had a child together. G's father was a religious leader and therefore did not approve of A.'s relationship with G. He hired a group of men to threaten and attack A. in order to scare him into ending the relationship. During a second attack, the men kidnapped A. When the men released him, they told A. that they would kill him if he did not end his relationship with G. A. did not comply with the demands. The men kidnapped A., G. and their child, but held A. separately. A. never saw G. or his child again. He escaped his kidnappers after police discovered and helped him escape. The men continued to attack A., even after he moved and changed his phone number. Fearing for his life, A. fled Nigeria. His attackers threatened via phone and text message to find him and kill him if he ever returned.

Important Client Context

A previous attorney timely filed A.'s asylum application with the immigration court. A. is scheduled for a Master Calendar hearing on April 16, 2025. This hearing is currently scheduled on the IAD docket. Though counsel should prepare to proceed as scheduled, these cases often do not move forward and may require advocacy to ensure this client receives a hearing date. All affidavits and supporting materials to

A.'s case will be due 30 days prior to his individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

20. N. is a gay cisgender man from Honduras. His master calendar hearing is on June 9, 2025. N. speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 6/9/2025

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

N. faced verbal, sexual, and psychological abuse from a young age in Honduras. His classmates called him homophobic slurs. Older teens sexually abused N. when he was around eight years old. He hid his sexual orientation for his safety. As a young adult, N. received death threats when he and a boyfriend held hands in public. Terrified that he would be assaulted or killed for his sexual orientation, N. fled to the United States at age 20.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed N.'s asylum application. Pro bono counsel will need to argue, with NIJC's support, that N. merits an exception to the Circumvention of Lawful Pathways (CLP) Asylum Ban. All affidavits and supporting materials will be due 30 days prior to his merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled. If the client and pro bono counsel agree, counsel can file a motion to set the case for merits.

21. U. is a woman from Cameroon. Her Master Calendar hearing is on June 9, 2025. U. speaks English and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 6/9/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: English

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Cameroon

Client's Story

At the start of the Cameroon Civil War, U. worked as a nurse. U.'s employer fired her after she disclosed that Separatists captured and raped her while she was returning home from a trip. As the Anglophone Crisis continued, the military came into U.'s community and burned down shops, including the shop of U.'s partner. Devastated and angry, U.'s partner joined the Separatists and was later killed during a shootout. After her partner's death, Separatists tried to recruit U., and the military came looking for her.

Important Client Context

U. timely filed a pro se asylum application. All affidavits and supporting materials for her case will be due 30 days prior to her individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

22. E. is a young man from Guatemala. He has a Master Calendar hearing is on August 6, 2025, but because he was a designated unaccompanied child, the asylum office has jurisdiction over his pending asylum claim. E. speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 8/6/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court, USCIS

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Guatemala

Client's Story

When E. was in high school, local gang members began to demand that E. help them with their illegal activities. E. refused, and the gang members pushed him to the ground. The gang members continued demanding that E. assist them. Each time, E. refused, and the gang members beat him. The gang then killed E.'s cousin for defying their demands. The gang's threats escalated to the point that the gang members threatened him with a gun in late 2020 or early 2021. E. fled Guatemala soon afterwards. Immigration officers apprehended E. and placed him in ORR custody.

Important Client Context

As a previously designated unaccompanied child, the asylum office has initial jurisdiction over E.'s case even though he is scheduled for a Master Calendar Hearing in immigration court on August 6, 2025. NIJC timely filed E.'s skeletal asylum application with USCIS. Affidavits and other supporting documents will be due one week prior to his interview at the asylum office, which could be scheduled at any time.

23. P. is a bisexual cisgender man from Ghana. His merits hearing is scheduled for October 2, 2025. He speaks English and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 10/2/2025

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Location: IL

Languages: English, Twi

Country of Origin: Ghana

Client's Story

P. understood his attraction to men and women around secondary school. Although he had a relationship with another boy, he felt he needed to hide it to avoid violence and rejection from his family and society. P. joined an LGBTQ rights organization in Ghana and campaigned for social services for the LGBTQ population. When P. left to study for his master's degree in Hungary, he continued his advocacy online through his Twitter account. When P. returned to Ghana after his studies, groups of men attacked and beat him in his home and at a market while yelling anti-LGBTQ slurs. P. understood he was not safe in Ghana and fled to the United States in 2023.

Important Client Context

P. timely filed an I-589 application pro se. His individual hearing is scheduled for October 2, 2025 and will take place via WebEx. All materials must be filed 30 days in advance of the hearing. P. has a young child in Ghana for whom he would like to petition if he is granted asylum.

24. L. is a lesbian cisgender woman from Colombia. Her master calendar hearing is scheduled for October 17, 2025. She speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 10/17/2025

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: Immigration Court
Location: IL

Language: Spanish
Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

L. faced violence and discrimination for dressing and acting in ways considered masculine. She was sent to the school psychologist to cure her "gay tendencies." When she came out to her mother, her mother rejected L. and beat her. A group of men then drugged, kidnapped, and raped L. because she dressed like a lesbian. Years later, a different group of men tried to grab and attack L. and a friend to "teach them how to be women." L. and her friend ran to the police, but the police refused to help them.

Important Client Context

Since 2017, L. mostly lived outside of Colombia because she could not tolerate the homophobia. She spent several years in Brazil and briefly lived in Chile and Ecuador, but she did not request or have legal status or a work permit in any of these countries. Pro bono counsel will need to argue, with NIJC's support, that L. was not firmly resettled in any of these countries. L.'s asylum application was timely filed with the Chicago Immigration Court.

The immigration judge is requiring a detailed affidavit be filed prior to L.'s master calendar hearing on October 17, 2025. All other supporting materials will be due 30 days prior to the merits hearing, likely to be set at the scheduled master calendar hearing.

25. S. is a man from Togo. His next Master Calendar hearing is on December 1, 2025. He speaks French and lives in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 12/1/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Languages: French, English

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Togo

Client's Story

S. joined the PNP political party in 2017 to protest the lack of democracy in Togo. He became party secretary and mobilized individuals to join PNP protests. In 2018, the police beat S. during a protest and threatened to kill him. The police attempted to drag S. to their vehicle, but other protesters saw this and threw things at the officers. The police let go of S. and he was able to escape. With help from his father, S. fled to another village. He remained in hiding there for two weeks, but continued to receive threats daily via phone. During this time, the police gave S.'s father a summons for S. to go to the police station. S. fled to Brazil and lived there without status for almost two years until he received more threats. He then went to Mexico before entering the United States in 2021.

Important Client Context

S. timely filed his asylum application with the Chicago Immigration Court. All filings will be due 30 days prior to his individual merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs
Venue: Immigration Court
Location: IL
Language: Spanish
Country of Origin: Ecuador

Client's Story

In December of 2023, an Ecuadorian drug cartel known as Los Choneros, approached J. while he was working in a legal bookstore. Los Choneros offered to lend J. money, but he refused. The cartel members later returned and beat J., threatening him with a gun and demanding extortion money from him. J. began working from home, and the store later closed temporarily because Los Choneros had fired gunshots directly outside. J. approached the police for protection, but they were unwilling to help. Los Choneros then kidnapped J. and his son and demanded money from J.'s family. J. paid a partial sum, and Los Choneros released him. J. fled Ecuador. His wife and son live in hiding in Ecuador and continue to receive threats from Los Choneros.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 12/8/2025
Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: Immigration Court
Location: IN

Language: Spanish
Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

R. met her ex-partner, S., and he moved in with R. and her two children. S. was very controlling. He physically abused R. daily and tried to hit her children. Several months into their relationship, R. learned that S. was a member of the MS-13 gang. Knowing that there is nowhere in Honduras that R. and her children could be safe from S., R. fled to Mexico with L. S. threatened to kill R., her mother, and her children if she did not return to Honduras. He told R. that he would find her in Mexico. R. returned to Honduras for F. and together she and her children fled for the United States.

Important Client Context

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 2/24/2026

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IN

Country of Origin: Guatemala

Client's Story

L. endured sexual, physical, and emotional abuse from X., the father of her children. X. raped her regularly and threatened to kill her or her parents when she disagreed with him or tried to end the relationship. X. began selling drugs and was implicated in a triple femicide. When he was arrested, the victims' families surrounded L.'s house and threatened to kill her and her children as punishment for X.'s crimes. L. and her children fled Guatemala to escape the threats and X. Since arriving to the United States, X. has contacted L. and threatened to kill her for abandoning him.

Important Client Context

L. filed her asylum application pro se with the immigration court. Because L.'s application was filed more than one year after L. entered the United States, her pro bono attorneys will need to argue that she merits an exception to the one-year filing deadline for asylum eligibility. NIJC will assist them in making this argument. The family's Master Calendar hearing is scheduled for February 24, 2026. When the gang didn't get what they asked for, they attacked R. and injured him so badly that he had to receive medical attention. R. did not report the attack to the police because the police are corrupt and work with the gang. After spending a few days in recovery, R. decided to leave Ecuador. R.'s neighbors say that the gang is still looking for him. R. believes that if he returns to Ecuador, the gang will find him and kill him because of his refusal to comply with their demands.

Important Client Context

NIJC helped R. timely file his asylum application with the Chicago immigration court. All affidavits and supporting materials for R.'s case will be due 30 days prior to his individual merits hearing, which is scheduled for November 9, 2027.

41. H. is a woman from Venezuela. Her son and daughter, R. and W., are both derivatives on her asylum application, and W. has an individual application on file. H.'s partner, S., also filed an individual asylum application on which their son, R., is a derivative. H., R., W., and S.'s individual merits hearing is on November 10, 2027. They speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Merits hearing on 11/10/2027

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

H. was a teacher in Venezuela. In 2019, she attended protests to fight the poor conditions of teachers and the education system. As a teacher working under the Venezuelan Ministry of Education, H. was not supposed to attend protests that may be perceived as anti-government. The education system did not improve, prompting H. to move to Peru with her daughter, W. There, H. met her partner, S., and had their son, R. The family returned to Venezuela in 2021. H. continued to attend protests. When she attempted to return to her position as a teacher, school administrators barred her from doing so because her family did not politically align with the government. Colectivos, including civilian supporters and law enforcement, were frequently present at the protests H. attended. The colectivos harmed protestors with gas bombs, water hoses, and small spherical bullets. In 2023, colectivos arrived at H.'s house. They destroyed items around the house, beat S. and her other son, J., and threatened to either take her children away or torture and kill her family if they continued attending protests. H. and her family left their home as soon as the colectivos left and immediately fled to the United States.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed H., S., and W.'s asylum applications. All affidavits and supporting materials will be due 30 days prior to their merits hearing, which is on November 10, 2027.

42. V. is a transgender woman from Honduras seeking protection under the Convention Against Torture (CAT). Her case is on remand from the Board of Immigrant Appeals and is venued in Chicago. V. speaks Spanish.

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: LA

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

V. suffered severe physical and emotional abuse in Honduras because of her gender identity from both family members and strangers. V. first fled Honduras in 1994 and entered the United States as an unaccompanied minor. As there were no protections for unaccompanied minors at that time, V. was ordered removed without an opportunity to speak to an attorney. Alone and vulnerable, V. then ended up in a trafficking situation, which led to a drug-related conviction and eventually V.'s deportation in 2019. Fearing for her life, V. fled Honduras again as soon as she could. When V. re-entered the United States in 2019, she was detained in federal custody and charged with illegal re-entry. After serving her sentence in federal custody, she was transferred to ICE custody in rural Louisiana in March 2022. Unable to secure representation, V. proceeded pro se before the Immigration Judge, who denied all relief.

Important Client Context

NIJC represented her on appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA). The Board reversed and remanded V.'s case, however, the same IJ denied all relief a second time. NIJC again represented V. on appeal to the BIA. The BIA reversed and remanded V.'s case a second time. In May, V. was granted bond; she was released from DHS custody.

Although V. currently lives in supportive housing in New Orleans, Louisiana, her case is venued with the Chicago Immigration Court to allow NIJC and its pro bono partners to continue representing her in her proceedings. V. currently has no future hearing date. V. is willing to travel to Chicago for her merits hearing.

43. R. is a man from Colombia. His wife, W., and daughter, D., have independent asylum applications on file. D. is also a derivative on both of her parents' applications. Their Master Calendar hearing is scheduled for December 16, 2025. R. and his family speak Spanish and live in Chicago.

Deadline: Master calendar hearing on 12/16/2025

Asylum Categories: Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: Immigration Court

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

R. was a small business owner in Colombia. W. worked at another small business. FARC dissidents demanded that R. and W. pay a monthly war tax. When they refused, the dissidents robbed the store and threatened R. with a gun. A few weeks later, FARC dissidents again demanded R. and W. pay the war tax, threatening that if they did not pay, R. would be disappeared. Following the second demand, R. and his family received multiple pamphlets at their business and home threatening to kill R. and W. and kidnap D. for recruitment if they did not pay up. Eventually, R. and his family fled to another town about 17 hours away. Soon after, they received phone calls warning that the FARC dissidents knew where the family was and threatening to kill R. and W. and kidnap D.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed R., W., and D.'s applications for asylum applications with the immigration court. All affidavits and supporting materials for their case will be due 30 days prior to their merits hearing, which has not yet been scheduled.

44. B. is a lesbian cisgender women from Venezuela. She speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

B. knew she was a lesbian from a young age but always felt she had to keep her sexual orientation a secret. Her peers in school bullied her, calling her anti-LGBTQ slurs. Around 2017, B. attended protests against the Maduro government. She was arrested and detained for around six months for her participation but no formal charges were brought against her. After she was released, she received death threats over text message for her anti-Maduro political opinion. B. attempted to relocate for safety and moved back and forth between her sister's house in Colombia and her father's house in another state of Venezuela. In Colombia, she began dating K. K. is also seeking asylum but has a separate case. When B.'s father found out she was dating a woman, he sent her nasty messages and disowned her. B. and K. experienced discrimination in Colombia because they are a lesbian couple.

Important Client Context

B. and K. entered the United States together in December 2022 and timely filed for asylum with USCIS. Although B. and K. have separate claims, their cases would ideally be accepted together. B. has a tender-age daughter she included as a derivative on her asylum application.

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Honduras

Client's Story

J. lived with her partner, Z., and their son, R. Z. physically and verbally abused J. after he heard that another man touched her. J. was hospitalized as a result of the abuse. After this happened, J. told her parents of the harm. J. and R. left to live with J.'s parents, but Z. found her and threatened to harm J. and her parents if they went to the police. Fearing for their safety, J. began living with Z. again, and he continued to abuse her. Sometime after this, J. gave birth to A. Several years later, J. left Z. He retaliated by taking R. and A. He kept them for months and did not allow J. to see or contact her children during this time. R. and A. eventually escaped and returned to J. In 2019, J. fled the country, but Mexican immigration officials deported her back to Honduras. She had become pregnant on her journey and gave birth to her youngest daughter, W., in Honduras. J. and her children lived with J.'s parents because she received death threats from Z. In 2021, J. fled Honduras with W. to escape Z. About six months later, R. and A. traveled to the United States separately in order to join them.

Important Client Context

NIJC filed J.'s asylum application with her children as derivatives with USCIS in November 2023. Because the application was filed more than one year after the J.'s arrival, the family's case may be referred to the immigration court. Pro bono attorneys will need to argue that they meet an exception to the one-year filing deadline. NIJC will assist them in making this argument. All supporting materials will be due one week prior to the asylum interview. Because interview timing can vary, pro bono counsel should plan to work up this case within 12-16 weeks of placement.

46. K. is a gay cisgender man from Venezuela with dual citizenship in Colombia. He speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

K. fears returning to Venezuela (his primary country of citizenship) because his family beat him and called him homophobic names from a young age for playing with dolls. K. repressed his sexual orientation to survive. Two of K's older cousins sexually abused him when he was a child. His mother beat and blamed him when she found out. As an adult, Venezuelan police extorted and threatened K. for going to gay clubs.

Out of fear, K. fled to Colombia and obtained citizenship through his mother around 2017. Even as a dual citizen, K. faced discrimination and harassment for being gay. In Colombia, police also extorted and targeted K. for being gay. K. knows other LGBTQ people who were murdered and feared he would be one of them.

Important Client Context

K. entered the United States in October 2022 and timely filed for asylum before USCIS. However, the application was filed through a notary and will require some edits, though the factual information is consistent and correct. K. is awaiting an interview with the Chicago Asylum Office. Affidavits and other supporting documents will be due approximately one week prior to his interview at the asylum office. Because interview timing can vary, NIJC recommends pro bono counsel plan to work up this case within 12 weeks of case acceptance.

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence, LGBTQ+, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: USCIS

Languages: Spanish, Portuguese

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Venezuela

Client's Story

Beginning at a very young age, K. suffered multiple instances of rape and sexual abuse throughout her life. Her family often kicked her out of the house as a child because she is a lesbian. Her brother threatened K. at gunpoint. The father of K.'s daughter physically, sexually, and verbally abused her. K. tried to get a protective order against him, but it was not enforced. He began custody proceedings against K., during which he outed K. as a lesbian and the judge granted sole custody of their daughter to the father.

Around 2017, K. became politically active through her support of Capriles, an opposition party to the Maduro government. She organized people online, worked on voting campaigns, and attended protests. She also went to Gay Pride marches. The Venezuelan police detained her twice for her activism. While she was detained, the police said they would make her and her lesbian partner-at-the-time straight and teach them "how to be women." No official charges were filed against K. But after she was released the second time, Venezuelan officials came looking for K. to arrest her again.

K. fled to Colombia around 2018. K. obtained legal residence in Colombia. In Colombia, she met her new partner, B. B. is also seeking asylum but has a separate case. K. and B. did not feel safe as lesbian women and experienced housing and job discrimination because of their sexual orientations.

48. O. is a transgender woman from Colombia. She speaks Spanish and lives in Chicago.

Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Colombia

Client's Story

O. grew up absorbing transphobic messages and consequently hid her gender identity. O. later created a magazine that showcased transgender artists and promoted LGBTQ diversity. In 2023, a man approached O. while holding a knife, called her transphobic slurs, and threatened to kill her. She went to the police, but they mocked her and refused to take her report. Then, a group of people stalked O. and physically attacked her near her home, while calling her transphobic slurs. When she attempted to report them again, the police again refused to help her. She tried to file a complaint with the Ombudsman office. O. has since learned her report was closed without further investigation.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed O.'s asylum application, and she is awaiting an interview with the Chicago Asylum Office. Affidavits and other supporting documents will be due approximately one week prior to her interview at the asylum office. 49. R. is a woman from Pakistan. Her children S., T., and U., are derivatives on her asylum application. R. and her children speak Urdu and live in Chicago.

Asylum Categories: Domestic and Gender Violence

Venue: USCIS

Language: Urdu

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Pakistan

Client's Story

R. married Y. about 15 years ago. Y. abused R. physically, verbally, emotionally, and financially. The abuse worsened after R. gave birth to their three children, S., T., and U. R. sought the assistance of her family, but Y. refused to allow R. to leave the relationship or grant her a divorce, even though he was frequently absent. R. and her children fled to the U.S. in 2023.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed R., S., T., and U.'s applications for asylum with USCIS. S., T., and U. are also SIJS eligible and are represented by NIJC in their SIJS predicate order case. This case placement would be for representation on the asylum cases only; the SIJS cases are being handled independently. Client's Story

Around 2013, T.'s eldest daughters, S. and J., worked on the campaign of the mayoral candidate for the National Party of their town in Honduras. After the National Party candidate won the elections, supporters of the Liberal Party threatened S. and J. with death for working for the opposing party. S. and J. fled Honduras. In following years, T.'s youngest daughters, K. and W., were sexually assaulted. T. suspects the assaults are related to the problems her eldest daughters had. In 2022, unknown individuals shot into the family's house, prompting T. and W. to flee to the United States fearing for their lives.

Important Client Context

NIJC timely filed T.'s asylum application with USCIS and will file an individual asylum application on W.'s behalf. Asylum Categories: LGBTQ+, Political Opinion, Religious Beliefs

Venue: USCIS

Language: Spanish

Location: IL

Country of Origin: Nicaragua

Client's Story

V. was taunted, threatened, and attacked for his sexual orientation in Nicaragua from a young age until adulthood. Both V.'s uncle and a neighbor molested and physically abused V. when he was a young child. As a young adult, while walking down the street, several men attacked V., holding a knife to his throat and leaving V. scarred. V. filed a complaint with the local police in the past but was pressured by the authorities into dropping the case. V.'s family history of political activism, expression of anti-Sandinista views and participation in public rallies also make him afraid to return to Nicaragua.

Deadline: Predicate Order filed by 3/1/2025

Venue: Family Court

Location: IL

Language: Spanish

Country of Origin: Mexico

Client's Story

His parents separated when he was about five years old due to his father's physical abuse of his mother, which Z. often witnessed. After the separation, Z. initially lived with his aunt in Mexico while his mother came to the United States in early 2022. During this time, his father provided financial assistance only occasionally and inconsistently. In June 2023, Z. reunited with his mother in Illinois. Since arriving in the United States, Z. has had minimal contact with his father.

Important Client Context

A pro bono attorney will need to file a petition for sole allocation of parental responsibilities on behalf of Z.'s mother and obtain an order stating that reunification with his father is not viable due to the abuse and neglect, and that it is not in Z.'s best interest to return to Mexico.
