

OVERVIEW OF PRO BONO REPRESENTATION IN A U VISA APPLICATION

The National Immigrant Justice Center (NIJC) and its pro bono attorneys represent immigrant victims of crime who are seeking a U visa. With an approved U Visa, an immigrant will live free of fear and united with family members. The client will be eligible for lawful employment, a valid social security number, legal permanent residency after maintaining three years in U visa status, and eventually U.S. citizenship. Your representation will make a difference.

NIJC's Role in Pro Bono Representation:

NIJC screens immigrants for U Visa relief and places eligible clients on our case list. Pro bono attorneys who have attended NIJC's U Visa training and received NIJC's detailed U Visa manual are encouraged to accept cases for representation. After pro bono representation begins, the pro bono attorney maintains client communication. A designated NIJC attorney is available to pro bono attorneys for case questions and to review filings.

U Visa Eligibility:

An immigrant may be eligible for a U visa if he/she:

- has suffered substantial mental or physical harm as a victim of a qualifying crime¹,
- possesses information concerning the criminal activity,
- has been helpful, is being helpful, or is likely to be helpful to law enforcement during the investigation and/or prosecution of the crime; and
- demonstrates that the qualifying crime violates U.S. federal or state law.

U visa applicants must also be admissible to the United States as a nonimmigrant or obtain a waiver of inadmissibility. Certain qualifying family members may apply for U nonimmigrant status as derivatives of the principal applicant.

Pro Bono Representation in a U Visa Application:

Pro bono representation is critical to immigrant victims as many do not have the resources for a private attorney and the U Visa approval rate is significantly higher with counsel. Representing a client requires the following:

- Interviewing client² to gather facts
- Preparing client affidavit in support of U Visa and Waiver of Inadmissibility (if waiver required)
- Gathering supporting documents, including obtaining a signed certification form from law enforcement as to client's helpfulness in the investigation and/or prosecution of qualifying crime
- Preparing applications (Forms G-28, I-918, and if needed, Forms I-192 and/or I-912; and for derivatives, Forms I-918, Supp. A, I-765, when appropriate, and if needed, Forms I-192 and/or I-912)
- Compiling applications and supporting documents with a cover letter outlining legal eligibility
- If necessary, filing a fee waiver request with supporting documents
- Filing a timely response to any Request for Evidence or Notice of Intent to Deny
- Advising the client on future eligibility for legal permanent residence, employment authorization for any derivatives in the United States, and consular processing for any derivatives outside the United States
- Maintaining representation until all matters have either been approved or denied for both the principal applicant and any derivative applicants
